PRESERVATION INFORMATION ONLINE

Looking for an up-to-date listing of National Register of Historic Places properties in Oklahoma? Need information about Oklahoma's programs to protect archeological sites? Searching for ideas about revitalizing Main Street? Searching for funding? Want easy access to technical preservation information or other topics too numerous to list? The chances are you can find just what you want on the web. Also, you may find a subscription to a listserve helpful because you will receive notice about the most current preservation programs and issues (or share your own information with the list).

Government agencies, professional organizations, and nonprofit preservation groups at the national, state, and local levels continue to develop their web sites and provide the most current information about their programs and services. Here is subscription information for the Oklahoma State Historic Preservation Office's listserve and a list of key sites for you to visit.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE OKLAHOMA SHPO'S LISTSERVE

The Oklahoma State Historic Preservation Office invites you to subscribe to its listserve. Get the latest information on a wide range of topics such as availability of grants and share information about your preservation efforts.

To subscribe just go to <http://lists.onenet.net/mailman/listinfo/okshpo> for step-by-step instructions for subscribing and using the listserve.

Anyone can post a message to the listserve whether or not they are a subscriber. Just send a regular e-mail message to okshpo@onenet.net. Please remember that you cannot send attachments with your message.
