

Franklin D. Roosevelt
Born January 30, 1882
32nd President of the United States (1933-1945)

Franklin D. Roosevelt (FDR) was the 32nd President of the United States. FDR was the only President to serve 4 terms. While he was in office, he introduced the New Deal, Social Security, heavier taxes on the wealthy and controls over banks and public utilities and a relief program for the unemployed. On December 7, 1941, he directed organization of the Nation's manpower and resources for global war. He devoted much time and work planning the United Nations. Franklin D. Roosevelt died in office from a cerebral hemorrhage on April 12, 1945.

©Beverly Hernandez, licensed to About.com
Image courtesy of www.whitehousekids.gov

<http://homeschooling.about.com>