

ROSCOE DUNJEE (1883-1965)

Mr. Dunjee was called a civil rights leader. Civil rights are the things that we as Americans can do and enjoy. He owned a newspaper called The Black Dispatch. He wrote many stories to help African Americans. He was a leader in the NAACP. Many times he asked the United States Supreme Court to help with education, voting rights and housing to make life better for African Americans in Oklahoma.