KELLOND SCHOOL

LOCATION: Vicinity of Antlers, Oklahoma 040, Pushmataha County
127; NW corner of SW 1/4, Sec. 28, T 3 S, R 16 E

CLASSIFICATION: building; public; public acquisition--N/A; occupied; present use--community center

OWNER: Kellond Community, Rural Route, Antlers, OK 74523

DESCRIPTION: fair condition; altered; original site

A four room school initially, the Kellond school was constructed of uncut, dark red native stone. The roof is gabled, and the structure is single storied. To the north end of the building has been added space equal in size to the original structure. This addition tends to compromise the original integrity of the building. Surrounding the school property is an excellently constructed rock fence.

SIGNIFICANCE: date of construction and architect uncertain

The school building is the only structure that remains to give the community any focus. The masonry is much better than average; and the fence is exceptional.
